Rules of Engagement

My clients are committed to investing the effort required to define, attain, and exceed their own bold personal, leadership, business, and organizational goals. Those results are always the personal responsibility of each of my clients; but I am committed to being a world-class wingman for each of them, as I support their work of self-discovery and self-development.

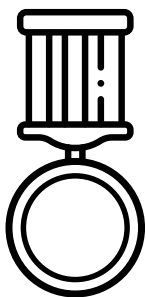

My free introductory sessions give my clients the opportunity to explore what working with me will look like, as they secure their own success while we mature our partnership along the way. My clients' success and satisfaction are paramount to me, and I do everything in my power to stay in position on their wings, while I support them in making progress on their leadership journeys.

My routine coaching hours are 9 am to 4 pm Eastern Time, but I am nevertheless happy to make myself available at other times in special circumstances, and if my clients are located outside the continental United States. I normally conduct my sessions by Zoom or telephone, so that I can work with clients wherever they're located; but I will make special arrangements for in-person sessions and for on-site flight check observation days.
